Motion one - Coffee

This JCR NOTES:

- There is no coffee machine.
- The masses are dropping like flies from lack of caffeine.
- Ed McGovern has had to buy a Thermos flask.
- Jack Evans is harassing the Domestic Officer.

This JCR BELIEVES:

- WE NEED COFFEE.
- Money should be spent on buying a coffee machine.
- Ed McGovern shouldn't have to tire himself out, hauling a hefty flask to and from CCC.

- The Domestic Officer should have permission to punch Jack Evans if he keeps on blabbering about how the coffee machine situation needs to be sorted.

This JCR RESOLVES:

- To mandate the Domestic Officer to buy a new coffee machine for a price which is reasonable given the current budget.
- To mandate the Domestic Officer to punch Jack Evans if he blabbers on about the coffee machine situation anymore.

Motion two - formal

This JCR NOTES:

MCR members, despite being older and nominally wisened-er, are actually not that bright.

Sign-up for Formal can get confusing for the MCR.

MCR members, either feigning stupidity or being genuinely dense, often sneak onto Formal using JCR places.

This JCR BELIEVES:

Things should be simple.

Formal places should be allocated so as to represent the population split between MCR and JCR.

This JCR RESOLVES:

To have two separate sign-up sheets for Formal: one for MCR members, one for JCR-only members (plus 4th years who are also members of the MCR).

Proposed: Ilija Rasovic
Seconded: Kezia Lock

No Short Factual Questions

No debate

Move to Vote

NO OPPOSITION

MOTION PASSES

Motion Three - Buns of steel and washboard abs

Notes:

- That Corpuscles like to keep fit
- The gym at Iffley is often too busy to use during peak hours
- That turning the JCR office into a gym is not a viable option
- That the squash court has got enough storage space for free weights/medicine balls etc.

Believes:

- That gym equipment would be used by a number of the JCR (rowers doing circuits/Arthur)
- That buying an exercise bench/free weights/mats/medicine balls would not cost much and should last a long time if used correctly

Resolves:

- Mandate the Clubs and Socs Officer to buy;
  - o An exercise bench:
  - o Free weights: Medicine Ball:
  - o And exercise mats/skipping ropes/
  - o whatever else people would like, with a maximum spend of £180

Proposed: Joe Mohan Ilija Rasovic

Seconded: Dom McGovern

Zack Hall – Will it be too busy?

No

1. Mike Hardy – Is there money for it?

YES

Move to Vote

Motion Four - Brit Award party SUCCESS!

This JCR Notes

- The Brit Awards occurred this year.
- Jack Evans and Mek Mesfin masterfully host the evenings event with verve, style and good humour.
- The purchase of Haribos to celebrate the moment.
- 100% of those who attended enjoyed the event.

This JCR believes

- We should celebrate success.

This JCR resolves

- To pay Jack £2 for purchase of a mega bag of a. Tangtastics, b. Starmix
- To thank both Jack and Mek for their services to pop music.

Proposed: Jack Evans

Seconded: Mek Mesfin

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Motion five – fiver for chlamydia

This JCR notes:

1. The NHS is going to give the JCR £5 for every Chlamydia test taken by an undergraduate.
2. That the Welfare officers have been promising a fiver for every test taken.
3. A bunch of people have taken tests.

This JCR believes:

1. We should keep our promises.

This JCR resolves:

1. To loan the welfare officers £5 to give to each undergraduate who has completed a Chlamydia test during the Chlamydia drive (number to be confirmed at the JCR meeting, when all the tests will have been collected), which will be reimbursed to the JCR by the NHS in 9th or 10th week.
