Eighth Week Bulletin

College notices

1. Self-help/self-care books in library

Events

1. Common Ground Oxford

Careers/opportunities

1. Call for Committee Applications to the Oxford Blockchain Society

Psychology Studies

College notices

1. Self-help/self-care books in library

The thief of time: philosophical essays on procrastination / edited by Chrisoula Andreou and Mark D. White At 128.4 An

The happiness trap : based on ACT - a revolutionary mindfulness-based programme for overcoming stress, anxiety and depression / Russ Harris ; foreword by Steven Hayes
At 158.1 Ha

Help! : how to become slightly happier and get a little more done / Oliver Burkeman
At 158.1 Bu

Events

1. Common Ground Oxford

Saturday - Monday | Varying locations around Oxford Common Ground is a student-movement that sets out to examine Oxford University's colonial past in the context of present-day racism and classism. We do not want to 'erase' Oxford's imperial legacy, we cannot. We need to investigate it. Common Ground are bringing a symposium to Oxford 10-11th June 2017: 'Imperial Past, Unequal Present'.

Careers/opportunities

1. Call for Committee Applications to the Oxford Blockchain Society

The Oxford Blockchain Society, founded by students in Michaelmas 2016, is a community passionate about blockchain and its revolutionary implications for society. Blockchain is the technology behind Bitcoin, the digital currency, but it's potential applications are much wider ranging.

With rapidly growing demand for blockchain talent - in areas such as banking, law, insurance, healthcare, and government, among dozens more - comes an opportunity for you to develop unique experience and directly engage with industry members who are desperate to understand (and hire people who understand) this disruptive technology.

We are seeking an IT Officer to update and maintain our website to reflect the new activities for the coming year, an Events Officer to help lead our committee's efforts in launching our first annual conference (as well as ongoing educational and social events throughout the year), and a Marketing Officer to update our branding and maintain our online communities.

Find our application form here, https://goo.gl/forms/cvStcl6cVr0fdxKj1, and our Facebook page for more details about our exciting plans for the coming year, https://www.facebook.com/OxfordBlockSoc/.

Psychology Studies

1. Earn Money as a Participant in Research

Participate in fun and interesting research on social decision-making and earn £10/hour PLUS substantial performance-based bonuses. This is a great way to contribute to research in Oxford and earn money alongside your studies.

Sessions are available anytime throughout Trinity term and can fit around your schedule.

If you are interested in participating please fill out a very quick survey: https://oxfordxpsy.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_6sdo6F2Wp0ks9bn

More information on the study is available in the participant information sheet in the survey above, or you can email jenifer.siegel@psy.ox.ac.uk

2. Mindaugas Jurgelis is looking for participants for his study investigating decision-making related to physical effort. The experiment lasts less than two hours and pays up to £16. Testing takes place at the University Club. Testing times are very flexible, including evenings and weekends. More information: mindaugas.jurgelis@psv.ox.ac.uk.