

Tyron for Treasurer

Count on me to count for you
It just makes cents
I'd be a sterling treasurer

You can bank on me
Change is in the air
I'm pound to be a success

Why I'd be good -

- ✓ As a first year student doing a humanities subject, I have plenty of time to do the job and to do it well
- ✓ I'm one of those people who monitor everything they spend each week and have made a fancy excel budget spreadsheet to record it all , all good experience for being a JCR Treasurer
- ✓ I'm a friendly person and would be easy to work with, whether that be with other JCR Committee members or the high-ups in the college itself
- ✓ I have at least a C in GCSE Maths
- ✓ Was head of marketing for our drama cuppers play, and of ~30 plays we won the award for Best Marketing (not strictly relevant but am quite proud of the fact)

What I'd do -

- ✓ I endorse calls made by all Presidential candidates for greater accountability and transparency in making JCR Budgets
- ✓ I'd aim to improve or at the least maintain the state of the JCR finances by the end of my term as Treasurer, if elected
- ✓ I'd continue the good work of the current treasurer, in ensuring that the JCR budgets are instituted smoothly and the finances are managed soundly
- ✓ I'd aim to give better financial advice to incoming freshers about Oxford living costs more generally, given how lacking information from the university currently is
